Editorial

Hello, warm greetings to all

*The rabbit hops its gentle step, the lark sings lyric songs
All the world's alive again, spring rights the winter wrongs. - Jennifer Gunner*

It is with great pleasure that SBS University welcomes you to the February edition of University newsletter. This month is also represented as the transitional month in nature and spring is in the sight and more and more birds are making territorial calls and nature has started blooming giving us a zeal to a new beginning.

Also this month marks the birth of some spiritual saints like Guru Ravidas and Ramakrishna Paramhansa whom teachings reformed the society and helped in betterment of the mankind.

This month a lot of exciting events and activities took place in the University like Annual Athletic Meet and National Science Day. Some important events like research-oriented workshop and blood donation camp were also held in this month.

This issue will give you a reflection of all these activities.

"Success is not how high you have climbed, but how you make a positive difference to the world." - Roy T. Bennett

Thank you. Hope you will all enjoy reading this issue of newsletter.

Happy Reading

PHOTOGRAPH OF THE MONTH

"I go to nature everyday for inspiration in the days work Colors of spring at SBS University spreading their fragrance and warmth after the chilly winter

Flowers blooming, new leaves sprouting, birds chirping.....
- spring connects flora & fauna together. It accentuates their beauty.

The golden trumpet tree stands out laden with yellow flowers, though devoid of any greenery of leaves, yet exotic"

STUDENT COLUMN

MIRAGE: the mirage named Shraddha

She was born;
Born as a hope for her family;
She was educated
Educated to support her family

Alas, the family did not know;
Know that they were trusting a mirage;
A mirage that was growing up;
Growing up to turn the world around her a mirage

She left her family;
That made them realize about the mirage;
Mirage they had never expected;
Mirage that came to reverse their lives

She thought being the mirage was good;
Little did she know she herself had built a mirage;
A mirage that she named love'
Love that she thought would be the best.

The purest love she had left behind;
Love which she got with no compromise;
And with compromise she got the love;
The love which in other words was a mirage.

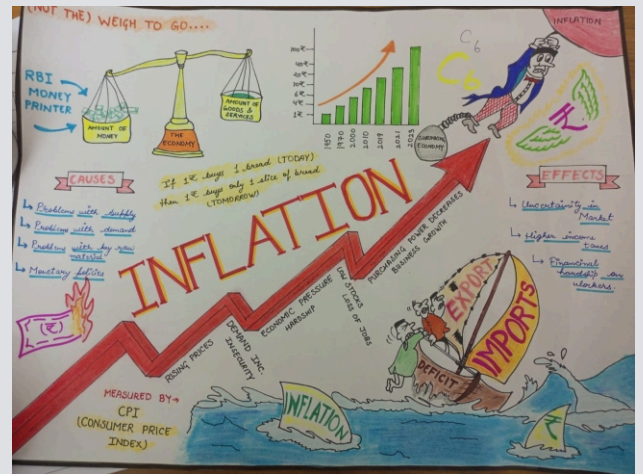

She was happy;
She was enjoying,
She wished it went divine:
But the truth comes out to show it's dark side.

And it came;
Came out in thirty-five pieces;
Thirty-five pieces of love;
Thirty-five pieces of compromise;
Thirty-five pieces of the families hope.

The real truth was;
She was born as a mirage,
She made her life a mirage;
She could not understand the mirage;
And she died because of the mirage.
