The month started with diving into studies and acknowledging the teachers who shape young minds and mold them into outstanding professionals and human beings. Faculty members were honored on Teachers' Day by being shown love and respect and having their contributions recognized. The most anticipated campus event, "Fresher's Party," came around as the month progressed. First-year Students were welcomed with so much enthusiasm by their senior students and the fresher's day was packed with excitement, joy, music, laughter, and happiness. As the month went on, the Department of Microbiology enthusiastically and joyfully celebrated International Microorganism Day, and the School of Pharmaceutical Sciences and Technology organized a guest lecture on "Boosting Public Confidence in Pharmacovigilance," which was a truly informative seminar. We further moved ahead in the month by celebrating World Pharmacists Day with the theme "Pharmacists Strengthening Health System." The festivities showcased poster contest, nukkad natak and quiz competition that highlighted the undervalued contribution of pharmacists to healthcare. As the month came to a close, the first sessional exams started, highlighting the necessity of balancing academics with extracurricular activities. The excitement and exhilaration subsided as genuine study and competitive fervor took their place.

REALITY OF MANKIND

Good and bad, a mere illusion,
Life happens, no conclusion. Our interests decide,
what's right or wrong,
But the consequences, will stay for long.
Mercy, kindness, love, and gratitude, Just words,
no real attitude.
Humans do, what makes them feel good,
Their pleasure, their only mood.
If you doubt my words, look at history
Humans' dominance, a cruel mystery.
Species extinct, for their own gain,
Animals suffer, all in vain.
They claim to love, but kill and eat,
Their hypocrisy, too hard to beat.
Even their own, they brutally slay,
Brothers and sisters, they betray.
Rituals change, for profits to make,
Sad, but true, no moral to take.
Good things or bad things, not existed,
Human's nature, forever twisted.

काव्य – वर्षा

रोम रोम विचलित हो उठी है,
कल से इस बरसात से,
मेघों का शोर है बरपा,
रोज सवेरे शाम से,

अब रुकेगी तब रुकेगी,
हम बैठे इस विचार से,
लिपट गई वह सारी बूंदें,
मेरे घर के दीवार से,

लिख डाले कई पन्ने,
आज के सुविचार में,
अब रुकेगी तब रुकेगी,
हम बैठे इस इंतजार में,

देखो वर्षा को झूम रही है,
हल्के काले मेघों में,
और हम दर्द लिए भी घूम रहे हैं,
दिल हथेली जेबों में,

सीखो वर्षा मेघों से,
जो झूम रहे हैं रातों से,
यहां रिश्ते टूट जाते हैं,
एक छोटी सी बातों से,

ठप हो गई बिजली सारी,
यहां सवेरे बरसात से,
अब मेघ बरस कर बोल उठे हैं,
और खेलो प्रकृति के जज्बात से,

वर्षा का भय देखकर जीव जंतु भी मचल पड़े,
प्रकृति के छेड़ पर
बादल भी गरज पड़े,

वृक्षों की सुखी शाखा भी,
अब हर्षित हो गई,
मेरे तालाब की खामोशी,
फिर सुशोभित हो गई,

इस वर्षा को देख,
जाए भी कैसे बाजार में,
अब रुकेगी तब रुकेगी,
हम बैठे इस इंतजार में,
