Editorial

When I sit to write the editorial note I always cherish the month of February. As always February has been month full of activity, colour and creativity. There has been an array of events that took place throughout the month. There was action in each corner of the Institute. As the gardens started to be in full bloom from basant panchmi, so were the students of SBSPGI.

The sequence of activity ranged from Chemcon-2015, concluding meet of annual sports, and the most awaited event of the year, The Sardar Gurcharan Singh Memorial 8th National Debate Competition that was a grand success with great team spirit of the participating nationwide colleges and ofcourse a remarkable hospitality by SBS fraternity

I appreciate the management of the Institute for providing this platform to the students of the Institute and students form Universities and colleges all round the nation at the National Debate Competition. It is commendable that an Institute of post graduate level gives such an opportunity to its students. This adds on to the over all development of our student. Because we aim not only to educate them but to produce a complete professional, well versed in all aspects of professional and personal growth.

Enthusiasm and ambition was what could be felt in every sphere. I feel the phrase "all work and no play makes jack a dull boy" was well proven in this month. The students were relatively relieved from their hectic academic schedules and they got a chance to nurture and portray their hidden talents.

So long live SBSPGI, AND FOR NOW ALL OF YOU ENJOY READING THE SPECIAL ISSUE OF NEWSLETTER.
